In this difficult moment where we are called to stay at home to stop the spread of the virus, we live our daily life sharing moments. Slowing down the rhythm of the day allows us to give more time to relationships and prayer.

Every afternoon we have Eucharistic adoration which ends with the prayer of Vespers together. Yesterday, Sunday, the whole day was lived in communion with the whole Congregatio praying for this situation and continuing Eucharistic adoration as every day, but with greater intensity.
